SUP. BIDDLE TO ATTEND AFRICAN-AMERICAN LABOR LEADERSHIP SUMMIT

Plans to discuss State Budget and voter education/registration

Milwaukee, WI – Milwaukee County Supervisor Eyon Biddle, Sr., will participate in the 9th Annual African-American Labor Leadership & Community Summit this Saturday. The Town Hall-style meeting is intended to focus on the State Budget and voter education/registration.

Supervisor Biddle will present an overview/analysis and take questions from the audience. Senator Spencer Coggs, Senator Lena Taylor, Representative Tamara Grigsby and Representative Barbara Toles have also been invited to participate.

“I attended this event last year, and it’s a pleasure to come back as a newly-elected County Supervisor to discuss how the State Budget could affect decisions made by local officials, including those on the County Board,” Supervisor Biddle said. “Events like this are important as we continue to promote African-American leadership, which is much needed in this community.”
